

JC PEARL EVENT #3

Scribbler

You are given a (well known) story. Come in teams of two so that one will write about it in the form of several news articles and the other must make illustration(s) to match. The catch? Write them as an outsider would have written it.

Explain the details and plot points of the story completely independent of every other plot point.

That is, every article you write must assume no details of the rest of the story while talking about it.

The articles should connect in such a way that only Sherlock should connect them to get the final story. But not mortals like us.

Regionals: No

Registrations: Spot registrations

Rules: We will give you 3 prompts/storylines and you can choose to write on any one of them.

You write roughly 4-5 news articles, each between 100 and 200 words.

Word limit of your entire entry will be 750 to 1000 words

Roughly 60 minutes to finish the full entry.

Judging criteria: Quality of writing, quality of illustration, cohesion
